Claims 59-70 are presented for examination.

Applicants' request for continued examination, amendment and response filed October 30, 2007 have been received and entered.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claim 59 is rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of U.S. Patent No. 7,141,520 B2; and over claim 1 of U.S. Patent No. 7,192,602 B2. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because of record set forth in the previous Office action dated October 22, 2007 at page 2 is MAINTAINED.

Claim 59 is not allowed.

Claims 59-70 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 27-47 of copending Application No. 10/673,596. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because of record set forth in the previous Office action dated October 22, 2007 at page 2 is MAINTAINED.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claims 59-70 are not allowed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 59-70 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

This is a new matter rejection.

Applicants' specification does not adequately describe or recite the newly added phrase "with the proviso that the tissue is not nail tissue". In the specification, page 13, lines 3-6 states the instant composition can be used on surfaces such as fingernails and toenails (nail tissues); and the applicants now claims the instant composition is not to be used on nail tissues.

Claims 59-70 are not allowed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 59-70 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over LaTorre et al. (6,517,863 B1) in view of WO 00/76486 A1 of PTO-1449, hereby known as Bellantone et al., all of record, for reasons of record as set forth in the previous Office action dated October 22, 2007 at page 4 as applied to claims 46-58.

Applicants' remarks regarding the prior art, LaTorre et al, (6,517,863 B1) does not teach the instant composition is used to abrade (to wear down or rub away by friction; erode) are not persuasive since the La Torre et al. teach the instant combination of bioactive materials are applied to the human tissue (fingernails) in solution or paste that is applied to the nail. When the paste is then removed, it wears down and rubs away the damage tissue from the nail. Also when the nails are in the solution, the solution penetrates the nails thus wearing away the damaged tissue.

Again, the claims would have been obvious because a person ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to combine the prior art to achieve the claimed invention and that there would have been a reasonable expectation of success.

The rejection made under 35 USC 103 is adhered to.

Claims 59-70 are not allowed.
